

“JUST TEXT ME”

THE COMMUNICATION YOUR PATIENTS WANT

Learn How to Get Ahead of the Curve With Digital Billing

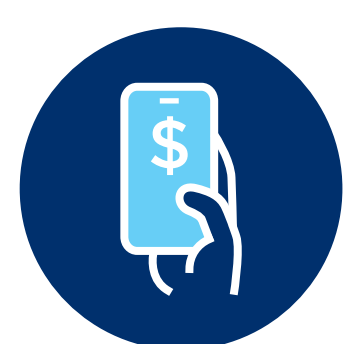

In a wide variety of surveys, patients strongly prefer text-based reminders and billing. See the benefits of digital billing below and download the eBook to learn more.

1. Patients Prefer Texts

The numbers are clear: For patient communication, texting is the way to go.

In 2020, billing-related text messaging grew by more than 200% for healthcare companies.¹

One fifth of healthcare survey respondents want “more consumer friendly payment options”²

While 75% of millennials find text reminders helpful, only 30% receive them from companies they do business with regularly³

2. Boost Your Billing Process

Digital billing isn't just convenient—it also saves you money. Eliminate the hassle of mailing and processing physical bills to save your office much-needed time, as well as up to $5 per physical statement.⁴

$5 Per Statement

How much you could save by switching from paper to digital billing.⁴

3. Better Patient Communication

Stay in the loop with notifications when a patient has read a text message, email or viewed their bill online. Set up automated follow-up reminders that facilitate faster payment.

Improved Cash Flow
Through quicker payments
via a digital billing system

“Text messaging should not replace other processes for patient collections, but it is a fantastic way to improve cash flow and drop bad debt.”
